Mary Culley had a pleasant surprise in store for her when she opened her door last Wednesday afternoon. . . . Mrs. Martin Andrews of Albany, a total stranger to Mary, presented her with five handmade dog coat and pet sets and two sweaters, as a gift for "the lady and her dogs, who so unselfishly entertain at Children's Hospital" every year.

Mrs. Andrews had read about Mary in the Times and wanted to "do something" for Mary, who was also "doing something" for someone else.

Needless to say, Mary was astonished at the generosity of a woman she had never seen before. "Just goes to show you," Mary commented, "there still are kinds of swell people in Albany."

Fritz Loura, a member of the Albany High School Band, spent some time last summer at the Santa Barbara drum majors' camp, and now he's leading the high school marching band on the field, showing what he learned.

Because of vandalism, Albany citizens feared they might not have the cross on Albany Hill lit during the holiday season. But, thanks to the generosity of the PG&E and the company's equipment, Albany's traditional cross (a gift of the Lions Club) is once again shining brightly atop the hill, for everyone to see. The citizens cordially thank this public-spirited public utility company . . . and so do the people of Albany.

New City Employees

The Albany City Council last week approved the adoption of a resolution appointing Michael James Blackwell as probationary hoseman on the Albany Fire Department.

The City Attorney was requested to prepare the necessary resolutions for the appointments of three more new city employees.

Mrs. Patricia Ann George was appointed secretary to the Administrative Officer, entering the probationary step at $675 per month, effective December 16, 1971. Mrs. George will replace Mrs. Johnnie Grisham who will retire January 31, 1972.

Mrs. Leila Rae Hogg, who will replace retiring Public Works and Planning Dept. stenographer Elda Foott, will begin her probationary period at $596 per month, effective January 3.

At the request of Chief Ralph Jensen, the Council approved the appointment of Leona Jean Meyer as civilian clerk in the Police Department, effective January 3, at a beginning salary of $558. This position was open under the Federal Emergency Employment Act.

NOTICE

Bicycle registration is now in progress at the Albany Fire Dept., 1001 Marin Ave., from 1:30 to 5 p.m. daily, except Sundays and holidays. Registration fee is 50 cents.

All bicycles operated within the city limits of Albany must be licensed by the end of February. The fee will be doubled after that. Impounded, unlicensed bikes will be charged $1.50. The Fire Dept. will stamp an Albany identification number on the frame for positive identification. Unless a bicycle has this number it is difficult to return to the owner if lost or stolen. Anyone receiving a bike for Christmas is urged to have it registered as soon as possible.

NOTICE

Albany Boy Scout Troop 12 and Cub Pack 3 will again join forces for their annual Christmas tree pickup project on Saturday, Jan. 8. Beginning at 9 a.m., the boys will go door-to-door throughout Albany collecting trees. If you are missed, or if you desire further information, please call 526-3256.

Albany Adult School Offers New Winter Quarter Classes

The Albany Adult School has announced several new classes for the Winter Quarter courses, starting January 6.

A Home Improvement Through Design class will meet for seven consecutive Thursdays, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Albany High School. Topics will include: room improvement potential, good and poor design, optimum site use, and case studies of home improvement projects.

A Computer Programming class, designed for beginners and programmers who want to learn COBOL, as well as advanced COBOL students, will be held on Tuesday evenings. The class format will be a multi-level workshop, using lecture and multi-media techniques. All student programs will be run on an IMB-360 G30 computer.

An Aviation Ground School course has also been scheduled. Covered in the Monday and Wednesday evening meetings will be lessons in the principles of flight, weather, navigation and aircraft operation.

A Commercial Aviation Refresher class will also be offered at the 11-week Winter Quarter, from Jan. 3 to March 17. The "refresher" course will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, to help prepare pilots for the FAA Commercial written examination. Both classes will convene at Albany High School starting at 7 p.m.

For further information call Albany Adult School principal Lawrence J. Hughes, at 526-6441.

Jaycees Name Contest Winners

The judging in the Albany Jaycees annual Christmas Home Decoration Contest was held last Wednesday, and the committee has announced the following winners:

First place: Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Meyer, 655 San Gabriel.

Second place: Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Baum, 1049 Ordway.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer will receive a trophy and a certificate good for cocktails and dinner for two at Soloman Grundy's. Mr. and Mrs. Baum will be awarded a plaque and a cocktail-dinner certificate. The awards will be made at an Albany City Council meeting sometime in January.

Honorable mention goes to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Eaton, 1265 Portland (who will also receive a special award for having the most Santas in a display); Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vleit, 1550 Marin, and Mrs. Lois Anderson, 916 Santa Fe.

Coloring Contest Winners Next Week

Winners in the annual Albany Times-Merchants Christmas Coloring Contest will be announced in the January 5 issue of the Times.

Participating merchants are urged to judge the entries at their places of business and notify the Times (525-1510) as soon as possible.

Variance Action

The Albany City Council has given the Vincent Development Corp. permission to provide access through easements over other abutting property, for a driveway at 725-735 Gateview Ave., rather than through direct access to the street.

The driveway, from the street to the maneuvering apron, will be increased in width to at least 14 feet, by moving the retaining wall, thus increasing the driveway by four feet.

A public hearing will be held on Jan. 10 concerning a variance request by Al Shore for 905 Pomona, which the Planning and Zoning Commission has recommended be denied.

Council Acts On Resolutions

The Albany City Council, last week, requested the City Attorney to prepare a resolution commending Crawford "Pop" Norman, former employee of the Albany Unified School District, and long-time Albany resident, on his 70th wedding anniversary, December 25.

A motion was made and carried unanimously, that a resolution also be prepared to commend Marlene Hodges, former acting city clerk, for her efficiency in filling the position.

90-Day Extensions

The Albany City Council moved to extend Ordinance 71-022 (freeze on San Pablo Ave.) for another 90 days beyond its expiration date of Dec. 31, at last week's meeting.

The Albany Planning and Zoning Commission has informed the City Council they are making good progress in reviewing the present Albany sign ordinance. However, because they feel they will need one or two more work sessions, before making their recommendation to the Council, they have requested a 90-day extension on Emergency Ordinance 71-04.

Albany Lions Crab Feed

The fifth annual Albany Lions Club Crab Feed will be held on Friday, Jan. 28. As usual, the affair will be held in the Veterans' Memorial Building on Portland Ave., in Albany. The dinner will be served from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., followed by dancing.

Tickets are available at five dollars each from any member of the Albany Lions Club. There will be none sold at the door. The Lions guarantee plenty of food for all those who buy their tickets in advance. The menu will include fresh cracked crab, baked beans, salad, hot French bread and your favorite beverages.

Tickets can be obtained at Call Brothers Jewelers, Chelemedos Market, Drozda's Service Station, Mary and Joe's, McDonalds Hamburgers and Richard's Jewelers. There are a limited number and no more will be printed, so get them while they last.

Short Agenda For Last Meet

The Albany City Council scheduled what appeared to be a short meeting for the last council meeting of 1971, at least according to the agenda for Monday night's meeting.

Communications listed included: one from the Administrative Officer regarding Masonic Ave. undergrounding project; another from the Administrative Officer concerning the Time Extension for Solano Ave.; and a third, from the Chief of Police, regarding Mr. C. Ben Egelhoff's plan to organize a group known as "Concerned Citizens of Albany."

Unfinished business, held over from last week's meeting, included the City Attorney's first draft of a proposed mandatory garbage collection ordinance; the reading and adopting of resolutions appointing Leona Jean Meyer as civilian clerk; Patricia Anne George as secretary to the Administrative Officer and appointing Leila Rae Hogg as stenographer in the Public Works and Planning Dept.

Other resolutions to be adopted included one commending Marlene Hodges for her work as temporary city clerk and another congratulating Crawford Norman and his wife, Ernestine, on their 70th wedding anniversary.

Two emergency ordinances (one for the San Pablo Ave. "freeze") and the other for the Solano Avenue sign review, were up for reading to be extended for another 90 days.

Reports to be submitted included a BART progress report for the month of October, a building report for the month of November, a Fire Dept. monthly activity report for November, and a report of the Park and Recreation Commission meeting held Dec. 9.

Burglaries and Thefts On Increase

Residential and auto burglaries have continued to rise in Albany during the past week to 10 days.

Renee Cheney of 1103 Talbot Ave. reported her home had been entered sometime during her absence Dec. 23-26, and two portable TVs, a flute and approximately 100 records in albums were taken. Value of the stolen articles was estimated at $460.

In an ironic set of circumstances, Miss Cheney found herself in custody, when policemen, who responded to her call, found marijuana in the house she occupies with two other women, while they were dusting the premises for fingerprints. The two other women had not returned from their Christmas vacation.

Other burglaries include a television set and record player, valued at $560, taken from the home of Albany City Councilman Joe Carlevaro. The rear door to the home had been pried open.

Approximately $25 worth of children's toys were taken from a locked car, parked in the 1100 block of Brighton, and Bonnie Langford, a waitress at the Silver Spoon, 854 San Pablo, reported a customer had taken her wallet from her purse she kept in a rear storage area, removed the money, leaving the empty wallet in the back rest room.

Entry was made through an upstairs bathroom window at 1108 Key Route Blvd. and thieves got away with a TV, a radio and a watch, valued at $387 by Charlene Nelms.

Thieves also took two automobiles from Albany last week—a '60 Volvo was reported missing from University Village, by Gerald Hudson on Dec. 21, and Christopher Johnson's '65 Mustang was stolen from 700 Solano Ave. the next day.

Albany police also aided the El Cerrito police in capturing a thief who stole two bottles of liquor from Longs Drug Store in El Cerrito Plaza. With the El Cerrito police close on his trail, Kenneth Snowden of Berkeley was involved in a high speed chase down San Pablo Avenue and ran into Officer Gerald Martin's police car when he attempted to turn on Portland. Officer Martin, in trying to avoid the on-coming car, skidded on the slippery streets and was hit by the fleeing Berkeley man. The Albany police car received slight damage. Albany Police Officer Bernard Johnson aided the El Cerrito police and officer Martin in the capture of the thief, who jumped from his car and attempted to flee on foot.

Police Dept. Notice

Some currency has been turned in to the Albany Police Dept., according to Police Chief Ralph Jensen. Owner may claim same by appearing at the Police Dept., 1000 San Pablo Ave. and identifying it.

These Are 'Danger Days'

Holiday celebrations, shorter days, and the ever-present possibility of fog or rain mark the period through New Year's Day as "Danger Days," according to Attorney General Evelle J. Younger.

To keep accidents to a minimum, the State's chief law officer offers this advice to motorists:

1. If you plan to attend holiday parties—and if you plan to drink at these parties—make plans to have someone else drive you home.
2. Keep auto windows clean and the view unobstructed.
3. Maintain and clean head and tail lights so they can give adequate light when needed.
4. Be patient in heavy traffic.
5. Leave for your destination early enough to allow for delays.
6. Don't follow the car ahead too closely.
7. Avoid changing lanes — except when necessary.
8. Watch the cars ahead and behind you closely.
9. Always be alert for pedestrians and cars entering the roadway from side streets and parking areas.

Police throughout the State will be on the alert during "Danger Days," and conviction of drunken driving carries stiff penalties. For example, on a first offense it could run $500 and six months in jail while a second offense maximum is twice as high.

Holiday Warning

A warning against two popular holiday plants—poinsettia and mistletoe—has been issued by the Alameda County Health Care Service Agency.

BOTH ARE EXTREMELY POISONOUS IF EATEN.

One leaf of a poinsettia plant can kill a child, and both children and adults have been known to die from eating the white berries of a mistletoe plant, according to Agency Director, James C. Malcolm.

Dr. Malcolm also issued a warning against another prevalent hazard—the danger of fires resulting from carelessness with Christmas tree lights.

Blood Needed

Blood donations are urgently needed at the Blood Bank of the Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association. The Blood Bank supplies blood to all 34 hospitals in both counties. In order to maintain this life-maintaining service to the community, the Blood Bank needs community support.

The demand for blood frequently exceeds the supply, but resources are extremely low at this time because of the increased accidents and surgeries requiring blood transfusions and a severe scarcity of blood donors to provide for these transfusions. A seriously ill person cannot buy, at any price, the blood he needs unless a fellow human being shares his—the "gift of life."

If you are in good health and 18 through 65 years old, you can help by being a donor. Call 654-2924 or your local blood bank for an appointment. The mobile unit will be in Richmond on Tuesday, Jan. 4, at the Machinist Hall, 255 16th St., from 5 to 8 p.m.

Holiday Drivers Warned: 'Be Alert'

Far worse than Ebenezer Scrooge, who went about spoiling everybody's holidays, the "had-been drinking" driver acts as if the holidays give him the license to kill. Drivers like him do not give—they take—innocent lives.

Once you get on the road and away from the holiday festivities, warns the National Automobile Club, you must concentrate on the serious side to the holidays . . . on defensive driving.

After all, you can't expect the intoxicated driver to be one of the merry gentlemen who spread joy to the world. He's anything but compassionate and courteous. Actually he's quite selfish. Somehow he has the strange notion that "it can't happen to him," he can't suffer injury or death. Maybe the accident he causes won't hurt him one bit, but it probably will hurt somebody else—even you or your family.

So that your "morning after" won't turn into a "mourning after," stay out of the drinking driver's way, when at all possible. For he is the one who will be committing all the deadly driving sins—especially excessive speeding, lane weaving, and tailgating.

Keep ever on your guard, for the guy who has had one too many might even suddenly pass out and head uncontrollably right in your direction. Then you must keep your wits about you and use the best defensive tactic open to you.

Always expect the unexpected, reminds NAC. The driver who has been participating in his share of spirited New Year's toasts often gives you no whatsoever, until the very minute. He seems to be de as soberly as you. But find out differently when makes his serious mistake cause his reflexes are slow and his senses have be rather dull because of the of alcohol.

Be prepared—among your important defensive driving niques you will find that ke at a safe speed, most likely duced speed, will help keep alive for the present and enjoyment of other holiday sons.

Albany High In Foothill League

Beginning next September, Albany High School will be competing in the Foothill Athletic League, instead of the present East Bay Athletic League.

This affiliation will be for a two-year period, during which time Albany will be meeting with other schools of similar enrollment, to explore the possibilities of forming a new league to come into existence with the 1973-74 school year.

The change is long overdue and is particularly appropriate now, as the majority of the schools in the EBAL have student bodies of around 2,000 students in grades nine through 12. When compared with Albany's 750 students in those grades, the need for change becomes dramatic.

Albany joins a nine-team league with the following listed schools (the first two enrolling approximately the same number of students as does Albany, and the following six schools having enrollments of approximately 1,400 students): Piedmont, Pacifica, Alhambra, Campolindo, Acalanes, Miramonte, Las Lomas, and Del Valle.

Welcome

We greet 1972 with sincere good wishes for you and "thanks."

Note of Thanks

We would like to thank everyone who entered our Christmas Home Decoration Contest and also to urge more people to enter next year. We noticed several nicely decorated homes that were not entered.

One of the reasons for the contest is community involvement and participation. The Albany Jaycees would like to get to know the people in the community, and we are always open for suggestions.

ROBERT W. WALKUP (left) looks on as his mother, Yvonne, and Albany Police Officer Bernard Johnson discuss the "Officer Bill" program, being introduced in the Albany primary school classrooms. The program is sponsored by the Ellis-Olson Mortuary, in cooperation with the Police Dept. Mrs. Walkup is vice-president of the Ellis-Olson Mortuary and her son, Robert, is the grandson of owners Harold W. and May Ellis-Olson.

Friendly Policeman 'Raps' With Children

Primary grade pupils of the Albany School District have a new teacher in the classroom: "Officer Bill" of the Albany Police Department, played by Officer Bernard Johnson.

Using illustrated visual aids, uniforms, police cars, a carefully worded talk which children can understand, a coloring book, and an "Officer Bill" award, the Albany Police Department has taken a giant stride to inform the community about the Police Officer and his job. In a friendly, "let's get acquainted" manner, the officer-instructor talks about his uniform, job, family, important safety rules for children, and respect for parents, teachers, community and the law.

The visual aid flip-chart, coloring books and classroom awards were furnished to Chief of Police Jensen by Yvonne A. Walkup, Harold W. and May Ellis Olson, owners of Ellis-Olson Mortuary, as a community service. The Ellis-Olson firm is one of hundreds of funeral director-members of the Order of the Golden Rule, who are introducing the "Officer Bill" program nationwide. "This is the most impressionable age in a person's lifetime," Mr. Olson said, "and we want to help all we can to keep our youngsters safe and on the right track."

Through the "Officer Bill" program, youngsters from kindergarten through third grade learn about the rules governing their society and their responsibility to obey those rules. They learn about safety, good citizenship in school and at home, and that the policeman is their friend.

The officer-instructor tells the youngsters why they must avoid strangers and refuse to get into cars with persons they don't know. He explains that they should always be polite and play fairly, stay away from dangerous places, and if help ever is needed, tell a policeman.

The children also learn about "Officer Bill" and the kind of man he is. They find that they can look upon him not as an enemy but as a protector and ally.

A visit to the police car and demonstration of equipment is part of the program.

At the end of his classroom visit, "Officer Bill" hands each boy and girl a copy of the coloring book. Chances are, the children will color "Officer Bill" friendly! Which is exactly what the Ellis-Olson Mortuary and the Police Department want them to do. Officer Bernard Johnson, beloved by all the children, is conducting the "Officer Bill" series.

Winter Quarter Classes Opening

The Winter Quarter of the Albany Adult School will begin Monday, Jan. 3, and will continue through March 17, with a wide assortment of day and evening classes scheduled.

Academic subjects to be covered include English, geology, philosophy and foreign languages, and a large selection of business, home-making, arts and crafts and physical conditioning classes have also been listed.

Adults with specialized interests will have the opportunity of enrolling in such courses as High Speed Reading, Aviation Ground School, Woodcarving, Driver Training, Photography, Celestial Navigation, Home Remodeling, Auto Mechanics for Women, Data Processing and Income Tax Preparation.

Most classes will meet on the campus of Albany High School, 603 Key Route Blvd., and a single tuition fee covers the registration for one or more courses.

Those wishing further information may call 526-6441.

"Mike" visited his Albany relatives before going on duty with the U.S. Air Force in Thailand, two years ago. He so enjoyed our town that he is paying us a return visit before going home and then on to a new duty in Texas. Welcome, Mike—glad you like our little town.

Have you heard . . . the bells ringing around the Albany Police Dept.? Wedding bells, that is—Officer Gerald Martin and Mary Elizabeth (Betty) Nehls, policewoman clerk on the day shift, were quietly married last week. Congratulations to you both!

To those of you who watch Channel 6 on Cable Tv, take another close look at the art work accompanying all those fire prevention "blurbs"—it's the work of our own Capt. Dick McSheehy of the Albany Fire Dept.'s Fire Prevention Bureau.

Santa's come and gone, but 60 youngsters can still remember their trip to Santa's Village in San Jose.

The Albany Parks and Recreation Department sponsored a trip to this picturesque spot. It was a very cold day and Santa's Village was bustling with excitement. After lunch, the children went on various rides including a sleigh pulled by two reindeer named Donner and Blitzen. One of the children commented that Rudolph was not present in that none of the reindeer had a red shiny nose. The children got a chance to visit Santa Claus and his elf in their very small cottage before they started back to Albany.

A very good time was had by all!

For all those of you who have been waiting for it (and who still have some money—or a credit card), Sam's Pharmacy announces it's BIG "½ Price Sale"—this includes all jewelry, scarves, Xmas cards, candles, wrap and ribbon, fruit cakes, games, and many more fine quality imports and other items. Now is the time to buy those things you'll need for gifts and remembrances all through 1972.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bellamy of El Cerrito were the surprised and proud winners of the beautiful nativity scene which has been seen in the window of Sam's Pharmacy for the past several weeks.

Unusual Program Offered By Navy

In a departure from past practice, the Navy has decided to start sending men to school before recruit training. Always in the past, the men went to boot camp first.

Under phase two of the Electronics Technician Direct Procurement Petty Officer Program, 36 weeks of instruction in electronics technology at San Francisco's Elkins Institute is being offered male high school graduates between 17 and 24.

As a pilot program the Navy has authorized only the San Francisco and Philadelphia Recruiting Districts to offer this enlistment incentive. The San Francisco District encompasses Northern California, most of Nevada, Utah and Hawaii.

Although those accepted for the program will be on active duty and drawing $405 monthly in pay and allowances, they will not be issued uniforms during their civilian schooling. After the first 20 weeks of school, they will be promoted to E-2 and their pay will go up to $440.

Upon completion of the full 36 weeks, they will be automatically promoted to E-3 and transferred to San Diego for recruit training. After boot camp, they will receive two to 12 weeks additional training before reporting for duty with the fleet. However, they will be promoted to E-4 before such assignment.

While attending Elkins Institute, the students will be under the military and administrative control of the commanding officer of the Naval Station, Treasure Island.

While a six-year enlistment is required for all men who complete the 36 weeks, a man disenrolled from the school during the first 20 weeks will have to serve only four years or he may compete for a Navy school seat after boot camp. Students disenrolled after 20 weeks may request their enlistment be modified to require an additional three weeks service for each week of advanced schooling received.

The Navy will evaluate this program to test the cost effectiveness of this method of training versus the training received in comparable Navy schools.

HAROLD VAN COOPS, Albany Deputy Health Officer and Albany March of Dimes Community Chairman for 1972 (left) trades campaign ideas with MOD County Chairman Sheriff Frank I. Madigan (right). Listening in on the conversation is Poster Boy David Shadwick, charming 2¼-year-old theme boy for the Alameda County March of Dimes campaign. David's fuzzy friend wasn't talking, but gave his support to the March of Dimes by wearing a big blue March of Dimes button.

March of Dimes Names Poster Boy

David Shadwick is a small, blonde, charming two-and-a-half year old resident of the City of Alameda, and has just been named 1972 Poster Boy for the Alameda County Chapter National Foundation—March of Dimes, a title nearly as big as he is.

To little Davey, this honor means going to a lot of interesting places and having his picture taken often with some very nice people. But, to his mother, Mrs. James (Carolyn) Shadwick, it means an added opportunity to continue her work of educating women about the need for special care of their health, and the health of their unborn children, in pre-pregnancy and prenatal years and months.

It was a "simple case of flu" suffered in 1968, which turned this gentle Navy wife into a crusading zealot. For David, born soon after the flu bout, entered this world with a defect in his spinal column.

David has a normal spine up to the thoracic vertebrae, then the vertebrae become progressively more misshapen, until at the end of his spine they lose all shape and are mere globs. This, in turn, has caused nerve damage to his right leg, which is now nearly an inch shorter than his left. A brace from the knee down helps hold the foot straight. But that leg muscle will never develop, and the bone growth is slowed.

Carolyn stresses, in her frequent talks with potential mothers, how terribly important protection against common infectious diseases can be.

"It is important," she repeats often and earnestly, "that every woman know that she could bear a birth-defect child. And, equally important that she learn ways to safeguard against the possibility. Many tragedies of still-born or maimed babies could have been avoided if the mother knew the necessity for an adequate diet, proper and early medical care, and such simple facts as how smoking, drinking or medication might effect the unborn child."

Both Shadwick parents are hard-working volunteers in March of Dimes activities. David's dad, James, is an AG3 weather specialist with the NAS Fleet Weather Central in Alameda. They have two other sons, Robert and Toby.

Servicemen Say Thanks

(These are the first thank-you letters received by the Albany Chamber of Commerce, from overseas Albany servicemen who were on the Yule Pool mailing list):

I got your package at mail call today (Dec. 10), and I would like to thank everybody for sending me all these nice gifts.

It was really a strange feeling, knowing that people outside your family cared now you felt at Xmas.

Albany may be a small city, but it has a lot of great people living there. Thank you again for everything.

Pfc STEVEN F. LAYNE

P.S. Sorry about the smudgy envelope, but the rain got to it when I was out in the field. Also I don't know when I'll get this letter off. We have a problem getting stamps and things up in the DMZ.

Sirs:

I wish to thank the members of the Chamber of Commerce for the Christmas package that I received this year.

It is great to know that Albany is not just a geographical entity, but it is a warm community of generous people.

All of my friends here commented upon what a great little town Albany must be. They dubbed the package a "CARE" package.

Once again, thank you all very much. KEN MURPHY

As we go to press, the Albany Chamber of Commerce received a thank you note of appreciation for SP/4 Vern Hadley.

McCutchan-Nottingham Rites

The First United Methodist Church of San Pedro was the setting for the wedding of Nancy Ray McCutchan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ray McCutchan of San Pedro and Raymond Clyde Nottingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Nottingham of Albany.

A champagne reception for 250 guests was held in the garden of the bride's parents' home, immediately following the double-ring ceremony.

The new Mrs. Nottingham was a 1968 graduate of San Pedro High School, where she was an Ephebian, a Knightette, Caterette, Thesbian and Varsity cheerleader. She is in her senior year at Sonoma State College, where she is majoring in anthropology.

Ray is a 1965 graduate of Albany High School, where he was student body president. He is a psychology graduate from Sonoma State College. He is currently enrolled in the Elementary Teaching Credential Program at Sonoma State.

Nancy was attended by her sister, Mrs. David Miller, as matron of honor. Assisting as bridesmaids were her sisters, Jayne Ellen and Karen, and Sarita Kirk, a close friend. Her sister, Heather, was a junior bridesmaid.

Roger Lyman Nottingham of Albany was best man for his brother. Ushers included Robert Joseph of Mountain View, the groom's cousin, and David Thomas and Gary Strawther of Cotati. Raymond H. Nottingham, the groom's nephew, served as ring bearer.

After a honeymoon in San Diego, the newlyweds are now at home in Rohnert Park.

Bigger MO's At Local PO

Larger denominations of money orders—up to $200—will be available next month in six metropolitan areas as part of a U.S. Postal Service test expected to lead to a revamping of the postal money order service.

The present face value of postal money orders is limited to $100.

The market test will begin January 8, 1972. A total of 1,100 post offices, stations, branches and contract facilities are scheduled to participate in the test, including Berkeley.

A new green-tinted money order has been designed to distinguish the test money orders from the standard gray orders, which will continue to be issued by other postal facilities. Although the green types will be sold only in the specified areas, they may be cashed at any postal facility.

The raised face value to $200 will apply to test money orders only. The regular gray-tint domestic and international money orders will remain at the present limit of $100.

Postmasters in the test areas also have been authorized to sell the green money orders on Saturday morning as another part of the market test.

Safe Cycling Tips Offered

One of the most cherished gifts a child can receive on Christmas is a bicycle, but it can also cause heartache if stolen, reminds Attorney General Evelle J. Younger.

He noted that the period through New Year's Day is known as Danger Days and reminded parents that many new bicycles are needlessly stolen.

One of the items that should be purchased to prevent theft it a strong lock. Additionally, parents should encourage their children to always lock their bicycles and to keep them in garages or other safe spots when not in use.

Furthermore, Younger urged parents to explain the following rules to their children:

1. Keep the bicycle in good mechanical condition.
2. Obey all traffic rules and signs and always give proper hand signals.
3. Walk your bicycle across busy intersections.
4. Always ride with the traffic—as close as possible to the right side of the road.
5. Be sure the roadway is clear before entering.
6. Always ride single file and watch for opening car doors.
7. Only one person should ride a bicycle—no passengers.
8. If you must ride during darkness, make sure the headlight and rear reflector are working.
9. Select the safest route to your destination and use it. Busy streets and intersections should be avoided.
10. Yield the right-of-way to pedestrians.

Mini-Album Sale

Postmaster William Wollman announced today that a limited number of 1971 Commemorative Stamp Albums are on sale at the Berkeley Main Post Office, all Berkeley stations and the Albany branch.

The mini-albums, which contain a brief description of the 1971 commemorative stamps, are being sold for $2.50 each. This price includes the packet of 24 stamps, and a packet of stamp hinges to be used in mounting the stamps in the accompanying folder.

'Vanity Plates'

The California Legislature came up with a good idea last year, which raised an extra $885,500 in the past nine months.

That profitable idea was the personalized vehicle license plates . . . 35,420 having been purchased at an extra $25 each.

Dubbed "vanity plates," because most contain names or initials, plates sold so far range from AAAAAA to ZZZZZZ, from PRIEST to SINNER, from SCOTCH to SODA, and from CHIC to CRUMMY; BEER, WHISKY, GIN and VODKA also can be seen traveling the highways.

Car owners may ask for any combination of six letters and numbers, but such words as POLICE, GOD and FBI, and swear words are not for sale.

Odd letter combinations are also checked for what they spell backwards, so other motorists won't be offended looking in their rear view mirrors.

The most popular license plate word is LOVE, which has been sold in 61 variations, including ILOVEU.

PEACE is the next most popular word, and although HEAVEN has been taken, the state hasn't given anyone HELL yet.

CHURCH NEWS

Opening the first service of the new year at Churches of Christ, Scientist, will be a Bible Lesson-Sermon that emphasizes the need for an intelligent approach to the search for God.

Services are conducted by Mrs. M. Taylor, First Reader, and Mrs. N. Leake, Second Reader, at Albany Christian Science Society, 1358 Marin Ave. Services begin at 11 a.m. All are welcome.

"How To Keep Your New Year Resolutions" will be the subject of Dr. Lewis J. Julianel's morning sermon at the First Baptist Church of Albany on the first Sunday of the New Year. Services will begin at 11 o'clock. The choir will sing "The Communion Hymn" and the ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be administered.

"The Divine Requirements" will be Dr. Julianel's message at the evening service, which begins at 7 p.m. The Youth Choir will present "The Wonderful Grace of Jesus" and Alice Berendt will sing "Not Until Then."

State Offers A Bargain For Campers and Boaters

The State Dept. of Parks and Recreation is again offering annual day-use permits, boat launching permits, and off-season camping booklets that offer a considerable savings to anyone who regularly uses state park facilities.

The $10 day-use permit is good until the end of 1972, and may be used anytime at any state-operated park in lieu of regular day-use or parking fees. Normally a visitor would pay a $1 day-use fee per vehicle, or a 25-cent walk-in fee for each day of use. The permit is not good for camping or boat launching, or at historic parks, monuments or museums where a separate entrance or tour fee is charged.

However, boat owners may purchase a $10 boat launching permit, good for the same period as the day-use permit, which may be used at all state-operated boat launching facilities. The holder will not have to pay the regular $1 fee for each boat launching, and may use the permit as often as he likes. But the permit will not be good at launching facilities operated by a concessioner, or for day-use.

The $10, 10-ticket camping booklet offers budget rates for camping during the off-season at most developed or primitive trailer campgrounds in the State Park System. Each ticket can be exchanged for a night's "first-come, first-served" camping, in place of the normal $1, $3, or $1.50 usually charged.

The permits and camping booklets, designed to promote use of state park campgrounds during slack periods, may be picked up at most state parks or they may be purchased by writing or by sending a $10 check or money order for each book wanted, to the Reservation Office, State Department of Parks and Recreation, 1416 Ninth St., Sacramento, Calif. 95814.
